

Murder Party: students had to show their entrepreneurial skills

On March 4th, 2021, a Murder Party played out digitally at the UPPA.

All day long, in small groups, a total of 55 registered students came to play and, while doing so, also tested their entrepreneurial skills.

Dropped in the middle of an entrepreneurial crisis, students had to step into seasoned entrepreneurs' shoes in order to get themselves out of the difficult situation they were in. In a fun way, this Murder Party helped them to understand the soft skills and the expertise needed by entrepreneurs.

I loved participating in this event. It was really interesting interacting with other students. The Murder Party organizers were really involved and made it easy to understand how to play. I'll play again with great pleasure!
Elisa A. Business School Master student

It was my first time participating in a Murder Party and I really enjoyed it. I never suspected how many entrepreneurial skills we could use in such a short time! I'm really looking forward to the upcoming Escape Game!
Mathieu B. Master student in Computer Science

To further discover entrepreneurship while having relaxing times, you are invited to an Escape Game | 🗺️ on April 8th.